CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

A recent study reveals that we may solve other people's problems easily, but at the same time find it somewhat difficult to determine our own. It is therefore little wonder that sometimes we have a feeling that the human character is very strange. Everybody, to some degree, is interested in each other's life. Or, to put it more precisely, everyone is eager about fine tuning other's life and career. Taking advantage of these facts has meant that the last decade has seen an alarming increase in the number of motivational speakers and trainers in our society. Does anybody actually gain from such speaking discourses? It is probably not as much as some imagine, especially as I believe that nobody can realistically motivate another person. These speakers and trainers can only "inspire", with their words and deeds. Motivation has to come from with-in, "self- motivation". Those who get motivated from within can only succeed in life. They are driven by an indomitable spirit.

Such determination was obvious when our CSS team recently experienced wonderful opportunities to be inspirational. Various trade shows and CSS India's invigorating budget meet, proved to be a springboard for stimulating ideas throughout an interesting season of interactions.

As business behaviours drastically change across the globe we need to equip ourselves for the challenges. What better way is there than to expand the results of the recent study, I mentioned at the start of this message, and instead of just focusing on other people's problems, we put inspiration foremost in our minds, so we may inspire each other to motivate for success?

It displays over 450 exhibitors from all over the world, presenting new products, the latest equipments and technology innovation and a vast conference program, providing a unique opportunity and experience for more than 45,000 professionals.

This year the CSS delegation was headed by Siby Kurian, Senior General Manager Sales & Marketing along with Ajay Krishnan, Senior General Manager Ocean Freight and, Arjun Bose, Director, CSS Abu Dhabi.

Siby Kurian, Senior General Manager Sales & Marketing CSS Group said; "We met with several key contacts during the three-day event, which offered great opportunity to increase the potential between The Middle East and Brazil."

"The profile of Intermodal South America is one of bringing together the key players in the segments of logistics, cargo transport and overseas trade to put the finishing touches to business or to embark on new deals," said Ajay Krishnan, Senior General Manager, Ocean Freight, CSS.

For the Director of CSS Abu Dhabi, Arjun Bose, Intermodal is the reference point for the main meetings of international companies. "Opportunities at such conferences are enormous as we meet the key movers in the market at these events," he concluded.

The 19th edition of the event, at the Transamérica Expo Center, in São Paulo, brought together more than 600 companies representing 26 countries, in an area 23% larger compared to last year, and it attracted an audience of 48,500 attendees over three days, with cargo shippers a significant proportion of those attending.

CSS PROJECTS, OIL & ENERGY

The Projects, Oil & Energy division of CSS Group recently handled a large shipment of steel structures, from Haiphong (Vietnam) to Abu Dhabi. The volume of cargo handled was 5100 cbm as it was from 2 suppliers. CSS Projects, Oil & Energy division chartered a vessel to carry the cargo from Haiphong to Abu Dhabi on behalf of their client. The entire loading operation onto the vessel was done in close coordination with the supplier and vessel owner. CSS HOMEWARD BOUND ATTENDS INAUGURAL WCA RELOCATIONS CONFERENCE

Victor Gomez, Suku Sudhakaran

The WCA Relocations is the newest and fastest growing specialty network within the WCA. The group was started in mid-2012 and has already grown to over 75 member offices in 50 countries and 62 cities worldwide. The aim of the group is to provide a platform for household goods and personal effects movers to meet, build business and efficiently find partners globally. With expert partners around the world just a click away, members of the group can deal with peace of mind knowing that each member is qualified.

The WCA relocations hosted its inaugural conference on March 6-7, 2013 in Bangkok, Thailand. The event began with a networking cocktail reception with over 100 delegates and attendants. Victor Gomez, General Manager for the network said: "I am delighted with the support the membership has given this new concept. We have lots of exciting plans and benefits soon to come and the progress we have made in six months is hugely encouraging."

CSS Homeward Bound and CSS India participated in the inaugural WCA Relocations meeting and were able to meet other members and network with them.

It is always an advantage to be part of any inaugural networking meeting of an association and especially an association as big as the WCA. "The Conference was very well organized and the highlight was the perfection in which the one to one meetings were scheduled and how the participants made a point to be present on time and get to know each other and exchange information," added Suku Sudhakaran, General Manager, CSS Homeward Bound.

"The Conference was productive for CSS Homeward Bound firstly because of the relationships that were built with many of the members and secondly we have already been able to exchange very interesting enquiries and business strategies", he added.

With relocations on the rise and the high demand for a strong network of specialized movers, WCA Relocations is looking to innovate and create more value and benefits for all members. An example would be the new mobile application designed to attract more business from companies relocating employees by targeting their HR managers and offering them a unique way to identify items to be shipped. It can also be used to directly contact members for quotations and onsite surveys. The application offers multiple features for relocations companies as well giving them a means to calculate dimensions, weight and take photos of items at the click of a button. This gives users a more efficient and professional means to complete a survey.

An unprecedented number of government ministers from countries as far afield as Australia, Argentina, Canada, Denmark, France, Germany, Korea, Lithuania, Northern Ireland, Sri Lanka, the UK and the USA conducted key trade discussions during the opening days of Gulfood 2013. Her Excellency Sheikha Lubna Al Qasimi, the UAE Minister of Foreign Trade, addressed senior delegations on the opening day of the Food Leaders' Summit.

ALPHA PALLIATIVE

Alpha Palliative Council affiliated to the Indian Business and Professional Council (IBPC), Sharjah, UAE works towards enhancing the awareness about palliative care among the people living in the United Arab Emirates and supports the activities of Alpha Pain Clinic in Kerala. The support group recently organized its 3rd annual Gala Dinner for members on March 9th, 2013 at the JW Marriott in Dubai, UAE.

CSS Group, a long term patron and sponsor of Alpha Pain Clinic attended the gala dinner by sponsoring a table for its staff and guests. The function was inaugurated by His Excellency, Shri Sanjay Verma, the Consul General of India and Malayalam cine star, Shri Vineeth was the guest of honour.

Alpha Pain Clinic has been acknowledged as the largest home care provider in India, since its inception 8 years ago, having made 29,857 home care visits by teams of specially trained doctors and nurses.

"Considering an average distance of 14 kms per home care visit, the distance covered works out to 417,998 km which is more than 10 times the circumference of the earth at the equator!" said, KM Noordeen, Alpha Charitable Trust Chairman. Today, Alpha Pain Clinic has grown to a membership base of 800 people and CSS Group is proud to be associated and continually build upon its Corporate Social Responsibilities amongst the community.

WHY ARE BRILLIANT IDEAS REJECTED?

If you would like to play the game, try to work out the answer to the following question before carrying on to read the answer.

What have the following books and authors got in common?

- “Harry Potter and the Philosopher’s Stone” - J.K. Rowling.
- “Watership Down” - Richard Adams.
- “The Jungle Book” - Rudyard Kipling.
- “The Hunt for Red October” - Tom Clancy.

The answer:- All the books and authors were rejected by publishers, not once, but several times. Harry Potter went unrecognised by numerous publishers including Penguin, who also initially turned down Richard Adam’s classic along with some 13 other publishers. Likewise Rudyard Kipling and Tom Clancy initially suffered the same fate.

Brilliant ideas are often rejected in all walks of life. Some of the reasons for being turned down, with the benefit of hindsight, give us all an opportunity to laugh at what appears to be ridiculously naïve assessments of the ideas.

A United Kingdom Member of Parliament, Mr. Scott-Montague MP, is on the record in 1903 as saying; “I do not believe the introduction of motor-cars will ever affect the riding of horses.”

Just as funny is Western Union’s internal memo in 1876; “This ‘telephone’ has too many shortcomings to be seriously considered as a means of communication. The device is inherently of no value to us.”

No doubt music lovers will like this one? “Guitar music is finished, it will not last.” – Dick Rowe, talent head at Decca Records UK, turning down “The Beatles” though to his credit he later signed up “The Rolling Stones”.

So why is it innovative ideas are thrown aside? The first thing to consider is where the person was when the idea originated. Usually ones, that are initially rejected, start their life with a lone creator. Maybe, like many others, you find your favourite place to have new ideas is when taking a shower. Albert Einstein said that he had his best ideas when either shaving or washing. The second consideration is what causes ideas to spring into our minds. With showering it is said that it’s the ritual of cleansing, flushing away grime, and the fact that showering wakes you up so spurring our creativity. Add to this mix a popular opinion, that it is the noise of the water flowing which stimulates your mind, and it becomes easy to understand why showering turns out to be the most favoured place for ideas. The more scientific amongst our readers may prefer the explanation that it is a dopamine high, relaxed state and distracted mind which a shower generates which makes for our great ideas originating in the shower.

However this very popular location has one quality which is both an advantage and also a draw-back. You are on your own. As a creator you are free to think without interruptions but also you are not able to share your thoughts with others until later. It seems that most ideas, which are initially rejected, are not presented as part of a team effort. With the aid of a team, one is able to present and focus a body of opinion when presenting the idea. Equally one has to make sure that your presentation is aimed at someone who understands what you are talking about. This is not as easy as it sounds especially in today’s culture of specialisation. A new idea often “breaks the mold” so someone, who has a specialised focus, may not be able to comprehend what to you, as the inventor, seems obvious.

So to increase your chances of having your idea recognised:

- 1) Try and convince your team – get them on your side.
- 2) Target and know to whom you are making your pitch.
- 3) Keep it simple.
- 4) Have an unmoveable belief in yourself.

This fourth requirement is the most important attribute to have, which is why I have left it to the last, as it underpins everything else. “Belief” is an inherent characteristic which is clearly demonstrated by everyone who eventually succeeds after rejection. They have a belief in themselves and their invention which means that they NEVER give up. It is a sacrosanct requisite that everyone with an idea, who wishes to “hit the jackpot”, must never waver from having total belief in themselves, a belief which transcends all obstacles. A rejection is just another step on the road to success.

This brings to mind that I have just written a book about the adventures of a magical talking elephant, “The enchanting adventures of Abul Kandula.” I have not sent it to anyone yet. Shall I send it to you to be rejected? - 😊😊😊

LUCKY WINNER

As part of our continuous commitment to the freight forwarding fraternity, CSS initiated a thank you scheme over 5 years ago, whereby one lucky name out of the scores of business cards that are dropped into the raffle bowls placed at the D/O counter at the CSS Corporate Office and CSLC-1 in Jebel Ali will be rewarded with a gift.

The winner picked selected and rewarded for the months of January- February 2013 was Santhosh from Total Moving & Storage LLC who walked away with gift vouchers worth 200 AED from Lulu, presented by Fida Asghar, Team Manager, NVOCC, CSS Dubai.
